

THE CULT OF SINCERITY

Topics for discussion:

What is Joseph's decision at the end of the film?

Which character do you relate with the most? Which characters do you feel like you know?

What does sincerity mean to you? Do you think it is possible to become sincere?

If you were on Joseph's "quest," what are some things you might do to practice sincerity.

How has the culture of cynicism and sarcasm affected your life?

If we work at self-improvement, then we must have originally seen something wrong with ourselves. In that case, what good can we, ourselves, do to improve us?
